CONAN DOYLE SAYS HE HAS FOUND PROOF OF LATER LIFE

Sir Arthur Holds N. Y. Audience Spellbound

CITES EVIDENCE

Says Death Is Only Painless Transition

(Reuter's Service)

New York, April 12.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle tonight described the sensations of the deathbed as he said they had been communicated to him from beyond the Styx.

Listening to him was a vast audience, an audience that filled Carnegie Hall, an audience many of whose members soon will board Charon's craft for the voyage which all must take. Palsied heads shook with emotion as the earnest words fell from the lips of a man who has turned from medicine and letters to a search for the spiritual.

Death is not painful but a pleasant process, said Sir Arthur. As death approached, the soul—the etheric body—floats out from its earthly shell, and hovers above the human clay, tethered only by the silver cord of which Ecclesiastes speaks. The only sensation is one of delicious langour.

The first sight that greets the eye is one of smiling, loving faces bending over the deathbed, continued Sir Arthur.

"Proof?" he asked.

"I have stood by the side of the dying, seen hands turning cold in death stretch out, heard words of endearment fall from lips that soon would move no more. Delirium, say materialists. No, it is not delirium."

"Proof?" asked the preacher of spiritualism again.

"The disengaging of the etheric body can be, has been, photographed. I am fortunate enough to have such a plate."

Then he told of eight daughters—all clairvoyant—who had sat beside their dying mother.

"It was lovely to see the etheric body disengage itself," he said. "There was a multiplicity of beautiful lights."

PASSING OF SOUL

Other accounts, agreeing in detail, had been given of the passing of a soul, he added.

"Is that not good evidence?" he asked.

The tense silence was broken, as the audience, obviously in sympathy with the doctrines of Sir Artnur, broke into prolonged applause.

Throughout the lecture—the first which Sir Arthur has given since he came to America last Sunday to raise funds for propagation of a gospel which he said was the beginning of a new religion for the human race—though not designed to displace the old—his hearers followed with rapt attention the presentation of his evidence of the spirit world.

He described at length his conversion from a rank materialist to such a faith in spiritualism that he had decided that his wife, his family, his reputation as a man of letters were but as mud in the gutter beside it.

His qualifications, he said, were those of a physician, trained to the scientific point of view, and what was deemed by some who had followed the adventures of Sherlock Holmes, some slight knowledge of detective work.

Then he proceeded with his defence of the hypothesis that phyical phenomena exist. Table rappings, he said, could be proved by such evidence as would carry a point in a court of law. Puerile signals, he said they were, corresponding to the knock on a door here below, designed merely to herald the approach of a friend and capture the attention of a sceptical world.

Equal proof, he said, could be brought forward that the spirits of the departed, through mediums, could converse with their beloved below and that these messages were the essential things.

ONLY "ANKLE DEEP"

"I stand but ankle-deep in a vast ocean of psychic knowledge, but even if I am only ankle-deep, I can perhaps bring some message to those who stand dry-shod on the shores."

Spirits not only can converse with those on earth, Sir Arthur continued, but they can present themselves in material form. He

SIXTEEN NURSES GO ON STRIKE AT PAULUN HOSPITAL

Controversy With Doctors Reported Cause Of Women's Walk-out

Sixteen Chinese women nurses refused to go on duty at the Paulun Hospital Sunday morning after a controversy which started last Saturday. One of the nurses precipitated the walk-out by declaring that she had been slapped by a German doctor. This is denied by several of the doctors practising at the hospital and the entire blame is thrown by them upon the nursing staff involved.

The trouble really began, it is stated, when one of the nurses began telling alarmist tales to a patient about to undergo an operation and threw him into a hysterical state. She was told that she would either have to stop such actions or leave the service, according to the doctors, and decided to quit her post, being followed by fifteen fellow workers.

The doctors state that five of the nurses have already returned and that the absence of the others will not affect the care of patients, as plenty of other attendants were available, but it was said last night that the male Chinese attendants are giving indications of stopping work as well.

COOLIES ATTACK FOREIGN FOREMAN AT WATERWORKS

Work On Badly Needed Filter Beds Interrupted By Labor Outbreak

Mr. J. Ballanda was painfully but not seriously hurt by a mob of angered coolies and work was interrupted on the new filter beds of the French Concession's water supply in a labor disturbance that has now been quelled.

The construction work is located at Tung Ka Dou where Mr. Ballanda recently was appointed foreman of a gang of 300 coolies. The new filter beds are designed to remedy the shortage of water supply from which residents of the French Settlement suffered so acutely last summer. Recently work on the new beds was rushed, as satisfactory progress was not being made by a Chinese foreman.

Mr. Ballanda reported after the outbreak that he had found only about sixty of the coolies were doing any work, but all demanded pay at the close of the day Saturday. He refused to pay any but those who had been working with the result that the mob pelted him with stones. After the disturbance had been put down by the police Mr. Ballanda was sent to St. Mary's hospital where it was discovered that he had received wounds from thrown stones on the arm and chest. He will probably be able to resume his duties today.

Church Conference Works To Hew Out Framework Of National Christian Council

Begin Voting On Constitution; Discuss Finances And Officers Today; Mrs. H. C. Mei Gives Address On Christianising The Chinese Home

The entire day was spent yesterday by the National Christian Conference in hewing out, section by section, the framework for a National Christian Council which shall co-ordinate the work of the various church groups in China. The recommendation that when this Council is formed, while holding annual meetings of its own 100 members, it shall call a mammoth conference such as the present one only once in 8 or 10 years, sharpened the interest in the present one. Many a delegate doubtless thought "I will not be at another such gathering," and when one considers all that may happen in national and international affairs in such a long period, the importance of all of this week's decisions was strongly enhanced.

The morning session opened by a presentation of the following statement, which following the desire for a doctrinal statement presented by Mr. D. M. Hoste, was arrived at by the Business Committee after hours of consideration:

DOCTRINAL STATEMENT

"Before submitting the resolution appointing a National Christian Council the Business Committee will submit the following for adoption by the Conference:

"A proposal has been made to the Conference that a doctrinal statement expressing fundamental Christian beliefs should be embodied in the resolution appointing a National Christian Council.

"We the members of the Conference joyfully confess our faith in, and renew our allegiance to God the Father Almighty, Jesus Christ, His Son, our Lord and Saviour, Who loved us and gave Himself for our sins, and the Holy Spirit, the Lord and Giver of life; and acknowledge our loyalty to the Holy Scriptures as the supreme guide of faith and conduct, and to the fundamental Christian beliefs held by the churches to which we severally belong. The Conference however is not constituted as a church council with authority to pass upon questions of doctrine and of church polity or to draw up a credal or doctrinal statement of any kind. While the Conference believes it to be a matter of vital importance that the Church of Christ in China should be established on a basis of true faith and sound doctrine, it recognises that the authority to determine what are the essential affirmations of the Christian faith lies with the several churches of which those attending this Conference are members. Any National Christian Council which may be appointed by this Conference will not in any sense be a church council, and therefore not competent to exercise ecclesiastical functions. It will be an advisory body which will seek to carry forward the work of this Conference and to bring the representatives of the different churches and missions in China together, in order that they may mutually enrich one another through common counsel, and will take action in matters of common interest only when it has reason to believe that the action taken will be in accordance with the wishes of the co-operating bodies."

RESOLUTION PASSED

Mr. Hoste seconded the resolution, stating that it would be manifestly impossible for so large a gathering to agree on a more detailed statement and that unlike the man who after he got a cheese wanted the moon, he was thankful for the cheese. The resolution was passed by a rising vote after which there was a spontaneous singing of the doxology of praise.

Mr. David Yui as Chairman of the Business Committee, begged the Conference to give the best possible thinking to two most important points concerning the formation of the new National Christian Council, namely, the choice of officers and the plans for financing such an organisation. In this connection he announced that both of the Executive Secretaries of the China Continuation Committee will be out of the country for the coming year at least, Dr. Cheng Ching-yi going abroad to study and the Rev. E. C. Lobenstine going on regular furlough to America. These matters will be discussed at today's session. The remainder of yesterday's meetings were given to discussion and vote on the proposed Constitution of the National Christian Council, section by section, the afternoon meeting coming to a close just before the last section was brought to a vote.

MRS. H. C. MEI SPEAKS

In the evening the Conference re-assembled for consideration of the general subject "The Building up of the Church." Mrs. H. C. Mei, wife of the well-known lawyer, and chairman of the National Committee of the Y.W.C.A. spoke on "Making the Home Christian;" Miss Ruth Cheng, a sister of Dr. Cheng Ching-yi and member of the faculty of Yen Ching College, Peking, spoke on "Women and the Church," and Mr. L. D. Clo

DR. MOTT LAYS CORNERSTONE OF NAVY 'Y' BUILDING

Many Attend Ceremony At Site Of New Building On Szechuen Road

With a colorful background of flags and flowers, a representative group of friends of the Navy Y. M. C. A., including members of different community organisations and many christian Conference delegates, gathered yesterday afternoon at the corner of Hongkong and Szechuen Roads to witness the laying of the corner-stone of the new six-story Navy Y. M. C. A. building.

Mr. J. H. Black, the chairman of the Navy Y. M. C. A. Committee of Management, presided, speaking of the happiness of the occasion, which marks the culmination of years of untiring effort. Mr. Black read a radio just received from Admiral Joseph Strauss, Commander-in-chief of the American Asiatic Fleet, expressing his regret at being unable to be present at the laying of the cornerstone, and stating that the institution of which this is the beginning will mean much to the American Fleet in the Far East. In the absence of Admiral Strauss, the Navy was represented by Naval Purchasing Agent, Commander M. R. Goldsborough. Admiral Sir Alexander Duff, Commander-in-chief of the British Asiatic Fleet, also sent his regrets at not being able to be present, as H. M. S. Hawkins left Shanghai yesterday morning. He was represented by Paymaster Commander E. T. M. Green.

Dr. Luther B. Freeman, Pastor of the Community Chorch, gave the invocation and Mr. Edwin S. Cunningham, American Consul-General, introduced the speaker, Dr. John R. Mott, General Secretary of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., and former General Secretary of the National War Work Council of Young Men's Christian Associations of North America. Mr. Cunningham spoke of the fine record which the Navy Y. M. C. A. has made here even under adverse circumstances, and stated that Shanghai was to be congratulated on so soon being equipped with modern and adequate facilities for meeting the needs of the service men who visit this port.

Dr. Mott said in part:

"One of the greatest and most beneficent achievements in the recent fateful, tragic years has been the work of the American Y. M. C. A. on behalf of soldiers and sailors in all parts of the world. While the ceremony of the hour makes it appropriate that I confine my remarks to the Army and Navy "Y" work of the American Associations, I do not wish to let the opportunity pass without paying a tribute of highest appreciation of the Red Triangle work of the British, Canadian, Australasian, Continental, Chinese, Japanese and Indian Associations.

"During the great War the American Young Men's Christian Associations served 800,000 sailors and 4,000,000 soldiers. General Pershing in a speech in New York a few months ago, in telling of the indispensable value of the war service of these Associations, stated that they performed fully nine-tenths of

SHANGHAI LIVEST SPOT IN ORIENT, SAYS MARCOSSON

Saturday Evening Post Writer Gives His Own Slant On Conditions In China

Mr. Isaac Marcosson who is a familiar unit of the Saturday Evening Post's corps of political writers and who just now is turning his talents to a survey of things in the Far East voiced the opinion yesterday that Shanghai "is, without doubt, the livest spot in the Orient."

This was given as a first impression evoked after a trip through the larger centers of Japan and northern China. Ideas Mr. Marcosson has acquired about China's political outlook take on a pessimistic tinge.

"It would be a brave man who tries to untangle the Chinese political situation," he said. "It is a job for God, though I doubt if even God, in his infinite wisdom, can untangle this situation. I believe that alleged militarism is the curse of China today."

The number and variety of curses which are shrouding China in a pall of gloom are legion but Mr. Marcosson's indirect arraignment of the personal ambitions of militaristic leaders places the curse where it belongs.

"At the moment when China should be capitalising the immense moral support and friendly publicity she got at the Washington Conference," Mr. Marcosson declared, "she has been converted into an armed camp and finds herself more defeated than ever.

"Whether this alleged war is a step towards stabilisation or not remains to be seen. But if China doesn't pull herself together and make some definite move towards standardisation of policy and stabilisation of government, she is going to forfeit the good will of America, who is her best friend.

HIS FIRST TRIP

"I am particularly glad to be in China. While this is my first trip to the Orient I have always wanted to come because, from boyhood, like most other Americans, I have had a deep and abiding sentimental interest in China. I think, frankly, that China has been too long the butt of selfish international interests and I believe that if she can now capitalise the good will and unselfish support that she got at Washington, she can begin a whole new epoch for herself.

"But this job is up to China herself. A famous American once said 'You cannot get out of a man what God Almighty hasn't put into him.' The same thing applies to China today. If China has those qualities of self-help, courage and, what is more important, patriotism, she can come into her own, but the job is up to her to do.

"There is no reason why China, with her immense resources, her enormous reservoir of labor, which is still comparatively cheap, should not have a whole new economic destiny."

Mr. Marcosson, who has been present at every conference and

GEN. WU WILL PURSUE CHANG TO GREAT WALL; NEW CABINET PROSPECTS

Chihli General In Tientsin; Main Task Now Is To Clean Up War Wreckage And Reopen Blockaded Railway Lines; Losers In Distress

MILITARY OPERATIONS ENDED, BELIEF

Victors Round Up Scattered Groups Of Fengtien Soldiers, And Strengthen Positions In Outlying Districts; Traffic Resumes

BY JOSEF W. HALL

(Staff Correspondent The China Press)

Tientsin, May 8.—General Wu is now in Tientsin, arriving yesterday. He came from Changsintien, bringing with him a large staff of railway constructions engineers and equipment. The repair gangs were put to work immediately repairing the damage to the tracks caused by the retreating Fengtienites.

The retreat of Chang's men was so rapid and disorderly that they were compelled to abandon many trains and much equipment.

Wu intends to pursue the retreating Fengtien troops to the Great Wall, but will not go beyond. It is expected that ordinary traffic on the Peking-Tientsin railway will be resumed in a day or two.

BY BERT L. KUHN

(Staff Correspondent The China Press)

Tientsin, May 8.—Admiral Strauss, upon his return from the fighting zone, said he saw ten thousand Fengtien soldiers in rapid retreat from the neighborhood of Loafa.

Wu Pei-fu is said to be planning an attempt to cut off the retreat of Chang Tso-lin, but it is not thought here that his chances for doing this are very bright.

Tientsin remains quiet, although foreign troops and volunteers patrol the foreign concessions. A special train carring a small force of troops of all the Powers has left for Peking to re-open the railway line.

Tientsin, May 7.—Chang Tso-lin is in a trap with all his bodyguard, according to a wire that reached Admiral Sah from Admiral Tu Shih-kwei, today. Chang's train is stalled at some point between Chunliangchen and Lanchow and Chang is in danger of capture by forces of Wu Pei-fu who are endeavoring to end Chang's activities once and for all time.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 8.—It is semi-officially stated that the conferences in Peking have resulted in the following plan, which will be submitted to General Wu Pei-fu:

The dismissal of General Chang Tso-lin and the appointment of General Chang Hsi-luan as Super Tuchun of the Three Eastern Provinces; the appointments of General Pao Kwei-ching as Tuchun of Fengtien, General Wu Chung-sheng as Tuchun of Kirin, General Ying Erh as Tuchun of Heilungkiang and Wang Shih-cheng as Premier.

It is contended that this program will place at the head of the cabinet an old official whom even General Wu Pei-fu will obey, while General Chang Hsi-luan is most influential in Manchuria and is a close friend of Wang Shih-cheng. It will also give the Central Government complete control over Manchuria, will stultify the opposition of General Chang Tso-lin and will pave the way for reunification, on which General Wu Pei-fu places the utmost importance.

The Chinese press forecasts the constitution of the new cabinet as follows:

Premier	Wang Shih-chen
Foreign Affairs	Dr. Wellington Koo
Finance	Wang Shih-yuan
Communications	Kao Ling-wei
Justice	Tung Kang
Interior	Tien Wen-lieh
Agriculture	Wu Chih-sun
Education	Tsai Yuan-pei
War	General Chang Shou-tseng
Navy	Li Ting-hsin

Chief of the General Staff General Liem Yuan.

Dr. W. W. Yen's name is mentioned as Minister in London.

Tientsin, May 8.—The situation around Shanhaikuan is still somewhat obscure. It is reported that the Fengtien troops have burned two bridges between Chunliangchen and Tongku. Thousands of half-starved Fengtien soldiers in the last two or three days at Langchow, Tongshan and elsewhere have been demanding food and are unable to go on, partly owing to the railway being most congested.

It is confirmed that the Defence Commissioner at Shanhaikuan stopped and disarmed several trainloads of Fengtien forces at Lanhsien and sent on the unarmed men to Mukden, but the Commissioner has now apparently been forced from the line and the Fengtienites are able to proceed.

General Wu Pei-fu remained at the Central Station yesterday. The Allied military authorities notified him that his presence was a violation of the 1901 Protocol, to which he is reported to have replied that he must remain as acting-governor of the province until the necessary duties had been performed.

Interviewed by Mr. H. G. H. Woodhead of the Peking and Tientsin Times, General Wu denied that he had demanded $20,000,000 for his troops and $8,000,000 for the people, and said that he had taken enough booty to meet the expenses of the campaign. He declared that he would not return to Loyang until the Fengtien armies had been driven from Chihli.

Peking, May 8.—With the exception of the rounding up of small groups of scattered Fengtien troops, the military operations in the Peking region have ended, but the outpost districts are being steadily strengthened. General Tang Chih-ling, the Military Commissioner at Hsuanhuafu, has arrived at Kalgan and taken over control. General Feng Shou-ming, Commandant of the Second Chihli Brigade, left Kalgan for Chahar yesterday for the same object.

Two thousand Fengtien troops from Jehol, unaware of General Chang Tso-lin's defeat, are reported to be approaching Tungchow.

Five Commissioners will visit the local war area for the purpose of assessing the damage.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, May 8.—There were varied and exciting incidents at Tientsin yesterday. The train which left for Peking yesterday morning has returned and reported that the Fengtien cavalry had cut the railway line, sawn down the telegraph poles and cut the wires at Yang Tsun and were holding the station, but on the arrival of a trainload of Chihli troops from Tientsin they either fled or were captured.

It is hoped that the railway and telegraph lines will be restored today. It is also expected that the Tientsin-Pukow line will open today.

Bands of Fengtien troops are wandering over the country side, and some are looting the villages.

One party of three thousand men created an alarm in Tientsin. They approached from the German Concession, but did not enter the city.

The pursuing Chihli forces are rounding up the fugitives and there have been several skirmishes not far from Tientsin.

Owing to considerable machine-gun and rifle firing across the river the ice breaker, Chingling, carrying the Captain of H. M. S. Curlew, was unable to come up until yesterday afternoon, when H. M. S. Marazion went down and found the fighting had ended, and escorted the Chingling up the river.

Several trainloads of Chihli forces have passed here, dropping cavalry en route for the purpose of rounding up the Fengtien troops.

Considerable fighting developed at Chunliangchen which ended in the capture of more than one brigade of Fengtien troops.

Peking, May 8.—The Tuchun of Honan is causing trouble, probably in order to create a diversion to relieve the Chihli pressure against the fleeing Fengtien troops.

Peking officials are confident, however, that General Feng Yu-hsiang is capable of easily suppressing the revolt.

Notes On The Situation

It is estimated the financial cost to the Fengtien army in the present defeat amounted to $20,000,000.

General Wu Pei-fu has informed the Diplomatic Corps that he is using every effort to restore communications along the Peking-Mukden line. He is refraining from entering any place within 30 li of Peking and Tientsin except for the purpose of clearing the stragglers, who are looting the residents and occupying the railway stations, he said.

In compliance with the demand of General Wu, a Presidential Mandate was issued on Saturday relieving Liang Shih-yi, Yeh Kung-cho and Chang Hu of all offices and ordering the trial of each for treason and causing the internal warfare. Wu originally demanded that similar treatment be meted out for Chang Tso-lin, but on account of his waning influence the president hesitated.

The sum of $800,000 is reported to have been the contribution made by Chang Hsun, the monarchist, towards the funds for the recent warfare. He spent the money mobilising the Jehol troops against Chihli, but the total rout of Chang Tso-lin happened on the day following the payment of the sum.

Liang Shih-yi and Chang Hu boarded a steamer on Saturday for Shanghai, according to a Tientsin telegram.

General Wu Pei-fu has expressed the hope that communications along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway may be resumed within three days.

The home of Chang Hu, Minister of Finance, has been sealed by gendarmes.

General Wu Pei-fu has ordered that no Chihli troops enter the capital.

Tuchun Chi Shih-yuan, of Kiangsu, has suggested to President Hsu the appointment of Mr. Chang Chien, the Nantungchow industrial magnate, as the next Premier.

the welfare work on behalf of the American military and naval forces overseas.

"Great as was this part of its activity an even more extensive work of the American Associations was that of placing its helpful facilities at the disposal of not less than 19,000,000 soldiers and sailors of France, Italy, Russia, Portugal, India, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia and other countries. This service was rendered on Western, Southern and Eastern fronts, and, at a late stage, on the Northern or Archangel front, also in Northern and Eastern Africa, in Western, Southern and Eastern Asia and in parts of the island world. Particular and most grateful recognition should be made of the splendid joint work of the American, British and Chinese Associations on behalf of the Chinese labor battalions behind the armies in France.

"Moreover, we should never overlook that marvelous and truly Christ-like work on behalf of at least 6,000,000 men of both sides of the War in the many lonely prisoner-of-war camps.

"Although the War is over, the American 'Y' are continuing and, where necessary, enlarging their pre-war peace time service. In the light of the rich and instructive experience of the war period they desire to improve their work in every way possible. Happily at the end of the War they were left with a balance. The American National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. have decided to devote this balance to helping to provide permanent Association buildings for serving the American Navy and Army at home and abroad. We were glad, therefore, to find ourselves in a position to respond favorably to the request of the leaders and friends of the American Navy Y. M. C. A. of Shanghai and to devote $200,000 gold to the project of establishing such a center for its work in this important city. We have observed with satisfaction the wise and devoted way in which those responsible for the management of this Association have administered their trust.

"What will the building, soon to rise on this spot, accomplish? It will serve as a home to an unending stream of young men away from home. It will furnish all of the best facilities and advantages of a popular, democratic club. In a very real sense it will be a light-house to young men coming to this port with its surging and treacherous cross-currents. At times it will prove to be a veritable city of refuge. It will be an inspiring training school in character and in service. It will constitute a base for wise, aggressive operations against the forces which tend to undermine faith and character. It affords an added opportunity for the people of this community to manifest their deep, practical interest in the young men who are serving their country.

"It is my duty and high privilege now, on your behalf and for the service of men of the American Navy and of all other young men who come within its gates, to lay the corner stone of the American Navy Y. M. C. A., and this we reverently do in the Name of Jesus Christ—the same yesterday, today and forever."

Chinese Constable Charged As Deserter

A Chinese constable of the International Police Department was brought up yesterday before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Kwan, charged with deserting the Force.

Mr. Faithful who appeared for the police said that the warrant against the defendant was issued by the Assistant Police Commissioner of Police. The defendant had a contract with the force, and after he had examined same he came to the conclusion that there was no criminal act done by the defendant. The offence was purely a civil one, and he asked leave to withdraw the charge. He added that as the defendant had not returned his uniform the charge of retaining Government property could be pressed. The defendant said that he applied for leave to go home as his mother was ill. The Assistant Superientendent had given him three days, but he could not return within that time as his mother had died in the interval. He was arrested in his house. He had no desire to desert the force.

The uniform was ordered to be returned within 24 hours.

Sixty Gather At Canadian Tiffin

Some sixty persons were present at the Union Club yesterday for the tiffin given by the Canadian Association of China. The Rev. McGillivray presided, supported by Dr. Ross, Canadian Trade Commissioner, and among the guests attending were: Rev. W. J. Mortimore, Rev. A. E. Armstrong, Mrs. A. E. Armstrong, Miss E. O. Reid, Dr. Endicott, R. C. Armstrong, J. L. Stewart, R. A. Mitchell, E. W. Wallace, Mrs. E. W. Wallace, Wm. C. Schram, Mrs. Ross, Mr. McRea, Mr. Mackay, Prof. Scharman, Mrs. Scharman and Bishop White.

every important political gathering of any size since the war, and is a "conference expert," expressed disappointment and surprise at his discovery that in the Far East, both in China and Japan, there was and is such an amazing lack of interest in the Washington Conference and its work.

"The Washington Conference was the greatest step toward world reconstruction that has ever been taken," he said, "because at Genoa there seems to be nothing but chaos and political bickering, while at Washington there was a minimum of politics.

SAVED JAPAN

"The reaction from the conference in Japan is intensely interesting, for Japan is still fighting hard for a big army. The Conference did Japan the greatest possible service because it saved her from national bankruptcy. Japan is, I believe, on the verge of a great economic disaster on whose crater she has been teetering for almost two years. The impending disaster is due to a variety of causes. The country is still suffering from excessive war-time prosperity. Cost of industrial production is prohibitive. There is still a terrific inflation of prices and living costs continue to be exceedingly high. Japan's big business has not yet 'written off' her losses and the whole stage is set, as it were, for a very serious and costly readjustment.

"I believe that Japan is sincerely desirous of establishing a new relationship with China. In fact, it must be done in economic self-defense. Wherever I went in Japan I was received with the most distinguished courtesy and hospitality and I regard the experience as a memorable one."

Every minute of Mr. Marcosson's time in Shanghai, until he leaves for Hongkong and Canton, for a short stay before returning to America on the Empire State, is taken with personal conferences, investigations and studies here and with invitations to speak before various organisations.

He will be the guest of the American Chamber of Commerce at a tiffin in the Union Club on Wednesday and of the American University Club at a tiffin at the Carlton at 12:15 Friday.

After his return to America Mr. Marcosson will complete his fourteen articles on the Orient for the Saturday Evening Post, after which he will do some more transatlantic commuting and run over to Europe for "a few days."

SIXTY PERISHED IN BURNING OF YANGTSZE BOAT

Details Of Destruction Of Steamer Kiangtung Are Received In Hankow

(China Press Correspondence)

Hankow, May 4.—Investigation following the burning of the China Merchants' steamer Kiangtung while enroute from Ichang to Hankow discloses that sixty persons perished in the disaster and that two hundred were saved by the gallantry of the master of the vessel, Captain Evenson who drove it ashore and held it there by keeping his engines going while most of those aboard struggled safely to land.

It was late on the night of April 29 when the vessel was near Chilimiao that the fire swept the steamer. About 400 passengers were aboard and all were asleep when the flames which evidently had been spreading unseen below deck burst with frightful suddenness from the cargo compartment filled with barrels of wood oil from Szechuen and consigned to an American firm here.

In a brief space one entire end of the steamer was wrapped in mounting flames. To meet the emergency when the hundreds of passengers were thrown into the wildest panic of terror the Captain turned the steamer into the nearest bank and after reaching it held the bow in the shallow water while the fear maddened passengers saved themselves. Many fell overboard into deep water and were swept away by the current in the darkness, but nearly a hundred of these were rescued by life-boats of the Chinese Charity Guilds that turned out swiftly when the flames were first observed. The blazing vessel itself served as a great torch that lighted and aided the work of life saving.

The cause of the burning of the steamer has not definitely been ascertained, but it is thought that it started from a burning cigarette that had been thrown among the old barrels aboard. Many survivors of the disaster have arrived in Hankow.

FOR REMOVING SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.

No woman who has any sense of beauty will deny that superfluous hair is one of the greatest drawbacks to good looks.

Realising this, women of all times have put themselves to any expense, and have endured considerable pain and discomfort in order to rid themselves of this great disfigurement.

Nowadays electrolysis is a prevalent "cure" for this evil, but in reality this process involves a great deal of unnecessary expense, waste of time and pain.

The simplest quickest, and most effective treatment can easily be carried out by any sufferer, in the privacy of her home. This is the recipe:

Procure about 1 oz. powdered pheminol from your chemist; mix a sufficient quantity with a few drops of water into a stiff paste. Apply this carefuly and thoroughly to the hair you wish to remove, and allow the paste to dry. In a few minutes it can be gently scraped away. The skin is left absolutely free from hair, and should then be carefully washed in warm water, and if desired, lightly dusted with a little talcum powder. (Advt.)

Church Conference Works To Create National Council

addressed the Conference on "Work among Students."

Mrs. Mei spoke as follows:

"My seniors in age and experience will, I hope, grant me indulgence in discussing this large subject. My data are derived from rather limited observation of homes in the cities and ports, not of homes in the small towns and rural districts of the interior, hence the views stated here are neither complete nor conclusive.

"Let us first see what the average Chinese Christian home of today is like, and how it compares with that ideal home made the objective by the China-for-Christ-Movement, namely, that it should be essentially Christian in all family relationship, a training school in Christian virtues, a center of Christian intercourse and social service.

DIFFERENTIATION

"It is obvious that where only one or two in a family are converts a Christian home as such is impractical if not impossible. But where the family as a unit has embraced the faith, the negative results are familiar, such as the abandonment of idols, loosened hold of superstitions, forsaken pagan festivals and ceremonies, abstention from vile language and the like. In matters of physical organisation, domestic routine, in the observance of folk customs, the Christian home presents but slight variation from the non-Christian, and given equal advantages of education and economic well-being the similarities outweigh the differences.

"It is however in the spiritual implications that one expects marked difference between Christian and non-Christian homes, yet aside from the Christian label and the details already noted the distinction is often without a difference. For convenience sake, let us consider the average Christian homes on the standard of the China-for-Christ-Movement. First, as to making all family relationships Christian. We still have with us the patriarchal family system with its traditions of filial piety and complicated relationships, but Christianity has with sympathy and love tended to soften the stiff formalities. Relatives-in-law have become more natural and sympathetic, the relationship of husband and wife mutually respecting and confident, of parents and children more frank and companionable, of masters and servants more patient and considerate. In all these relationships it is the Christian women who can harmonise the old with the new ideas and set the example. However in many instances there appear a want of understanding and co-operation in matters spiritual which leaves much to be desired in the direction of creating a proper Christian domestic environment.

TREATMENT OF HELP

"One relationship which deserves closer attention than has hitherto been given it, is the treatment accorded the domestic help. Too frequently are servants' health, comfort and welfare ignored by callous employers. In this day of social enlightenment the human personality of the people whose aid make our home economy easy and luxurious, should be recognised. Domestics should not be held as mere servitors. Slaves have been found in professed Christian households whose owners should be the first in denouncing slavery as inhuman. The problem is related to the thousands of women and children in industry. Unless therefore we have Christian homes so ordered that slavery in any form becomes utterly impossible, how ironical it seems to agitate for more humane laboring conditions in the factory and the mill?

"Second, as to making every home a training school in Christian virtues, there is much laxity in following Christian customs, such as keeping the Sabbath, regular church attendance, Bible reading and habitual prayer. There is very little systematic moral education for children, grace is often omitted at meals, and such practices as the morning watch and evening prayer are rarely seen except perhaps in the homes of the clergy or religious workers. Only, however, as Christian men and women recogise the instructive force of example and the discipline of worship by translating their beliefs into everyday acts can we see Christian virtues developed in the home and inculcated in the young.

MAKING HOME CENTER

"Third, as to constituting every home a center of Christian intercourse and social service, there is in the average Christian home too much of the spirit of compromise with gambling, extravagance, wine drinking, gossip, and idleness which tempt, not only the well-to-do but even the less fortunate. The Christian home should stand as a bulwark of our society against these insidious vices, just as our Christian women should set their faces firm against concubinage and the employment of singing girls at banquets, a practice degrading to hosts, guests and entertainers alike. With all the resources of time, energy and money which can be saved from these wasteful indulgences, what a vast amount of charity, good Christian women could do in every direction! But until men and women learn to appreciate wholesomeness in the home atmosphere and until they can measure up to the crying need of the poor and unfortunate in their midst, their homes cannot enjoy the beneficent influences of Christian intercourse and social service.

"Now, are the average Christian homes making progress towards realising the three-fold ideal of the China-for-Christ-Movement? It must be said that the majority of Christian men are too preoccupied with business and other worldly interests to concern themselves very much with making their homes thoroughly Christian establishments. On the other hand, it can hardly be denied that a great many Christian women when not weighed down by domestic drudgery, lack either the education or incentive to order the spiritual tone of their families. While the responsibility for this state of affairs rest equally with Christian men and women, it is, however, the women's first concern; but are they now competent to meet it by making their homes thoroughly Christian?

THE PART OF WOMEN

"The Survey volume on the Christian Occupation of China affords some illuminating statistics: Women constitute but 38 percent of the Church membership, 20 percent of the church workers; girls number but 17 percent of the mission high school enrollment, and in the elementary schools only 27 percent. History does not record the percentage a generation ago, but it is safe to believe it is considerably smaller. Is it cause for wonder that the standard of education in Christian homes is low? Aside from the few instructional sermons, revivals held by itinerant evangelists, and occasional visits of Bible women, the spiritual education of Christian women has been neglected indeed. The figures just quoted show the inadequate provision the Church has made for both the women of today and of tomorrow. Our Bible women, devoted souls in the main, are precariously trained, often are regarded as no better than colporteurs, rather than as dignified and intelligent Christian workers.

"In the light of these conditions the Church's duty seems plain. It should begin and sustain a concentrated campaign to instruct its women in the fundamentals of the Christian religion; it should encourage them to seek systematic spiritual education for themselves and their children, and also enlist them in every suitable Church activity to relate them intimately to the Church program. The Church's failure to do these things in the past has retarded its growth, has made Christianity for many women an empty form, leaving very little impress upon the home. While the women unquestionably need the Church, the Church needs the women still more, and in every progressive church the women's worth has been more than proved.

INTEREST ON INCREASE

"In our church before the Auxiliary was organised the women held but a languid interest in the church, and treated it as a thing requiring some attention when Sundays came round. It meant little or nothing in their spiritual or social growth. But, when we started club meetings for mothers, gave talks on health, child-training, home decorations, social etiquette, when we rotated groups as hostesses, opened sewing and English classes, exhibits and bazaars, a large number of the most indifferent women came, evincing an interest in both Church and Auxiliary as their own proper activities, every one eager to do her bit in church and philanthropic work.

"In the recent Russian Relief Drive our Women's Auxiliary donated more money than the church's entire collection for the same purpose. Because of this fresh interest they have made gradual but marked changes in their home arrangements, have improved house color schemes, have recognised the claims of sanitation, and altered for the better the very atmosphere of the home. These changes have been effected not by working upon women as likely fields for uplift, but by taking them as forces for collective improvement. This is only one instance of what a little cultivation of women can do to make the church a live organism. I think it can be multiplied elsewhere if self-sacrificing leadership will implant self-confidence in the women themselves; but above all, there must be a determined purpose to secure and retain the women's interest and help. They have a unique influence for good in the Church, the Church needs but frankly to acknowledge its need of them in widening its program. If the Church is not to become inert, it must lose no time in drawing unto itself two hitherto neglected sources of strength: its young people and its women. The Church must give up the absurd and antiquated notion that women must stay at home. By utilising the women it will not only strengthen itself, but it will directly contribute a great share in making our homes effectually Christian.

WOMEN CAPABLE

"One of the many encouraging sights amid the host of pressing social problems in China today is the growing number of real Christian homes which present a gratifying relief against the myriad pagan and semi-Christian households. The women presiding over these firesides are sincere and capable Christians, no weak half-hearted creatures. Most of them possess a fair education, some are graduates of colleges in China or abroad, but apart from their culture, they are quietly contributing their need of service to the Church and to society. They have not merely made of their homes up-to-date habitations of comfort, good taste and happiness; better still, they have imparted to their homes a spiritual quality that radiates Christian joy and helpfulness. Nor do they confine their attention to their families, but have splendidly accepted obligations as Christian women in the Church and in the community at large. Thus we see women trustees of churches, free school directors, Y. W. C. A. officers and committee members, and in various other capacities, according to their talent and bent, reaping rich rewards for disinterested service.

"In the state of flux in which Chinese society today finds itself, when every wind of doctrine threatens to sweep aside age-old sanctions and institutions, as noble as they are ancient, when the swift currents of modern thought are loosening spiritual moorings, thank God for the real Christian homes that are proving a steading force to many people. Thus these genuine Christian homes, as they multiply in number and expand in influence as models of domestic love and cherished family life, permeated with Christian sentiment, and moved by the highest impulses to loyal service for God and country, will become more and more powerful adjuncts to the indigenous Chinese Church that is sought to be fostered by this epoch-making National Christian Conference."

TODAY'S SESSIONS

The morning session today will be one of the most interesting of the Conference as a comparatively new issue will be presented under the general theme "The Application of Christianity to Changing Economic and Industrial Conditions".

Miss Agatha Harrison and Mr. C. C. Nieh will present the recommendation of a Committee which has been working for several months to prepare for the Conference a statement embodying a standard for labor conditions in a modern factory, such as should be endorsed by the Christian church.

The afternoon will be given to further discussion of the formation of the Council. At 4:30 there will be a meeting of all the women delegates to the Conference in the dining room of the Ningpo Guild Hall, called by Miss Myfanwy Wood, one of the executive secretaries of the Conference. The evening will be left free.

P. I. MISSION ON WAY TO AMERICA TO ASK FREEDOM

Want Immediate And Complete Independence

The Philippines Independence Mission, headed by Mr. Manuel Quezon, ex-president of the Senate and Mr. Sergio Osmena, speaker of the House, passed through Shanghai Sunday on the Keystone State en route to Washington where they will ask for immediate, complete and absolute independence for the islands.

General Emilio Aguinaldo, the Filipinos' popular idol, who was chosen honorary chairman of the mission, refused to go a few days before the mission's scheduled departure, and predicted that the pilgrimage would be a failure. Mr. Quezon also announced his refusal to go a few days ago but again changed his mind at the last minute and joined the party. Mr. Quezon and Mr. Osmena will leave the Keystone State at Yokohama and continue on to the United States on the Tenyo Maru.

In addition to the joint chairmen the mission is made up of six senators, nine representatives and the Secretary of the Interior. There is also a body of advisors accompanying the mission.

The mission gave out a formal prepared statement concerning their aims as follows:

"The Organic Act of the Philippines, passed almost unanimously by the American Congress in 1916, regardless of party lines, formally declared that the independence of the Philippines would be recognised as soon as a stable government could be established therein. The Filipino people have fully shown their ability to organise and maintain a stable government.

"Under the autonomous government set up six years ago, peace and tranquility have prevailed throughout the archipelago; elections have been honestly and orderly held, and the result thereof acquiesced in by the minority; the lives, liberty and property of all, both foreigners and nationals, have been duly and amply protected; and justice has been efficiently administered by the courts.

"Therefore, the Filipino people have more than sufficiently fulfilled the sole condition precedent to the recognition of Philippine Independence, and this Mission goes to the United States in the hope that America will no longer delay the performance of her own part of the agreement.

"The Mission desires to convey to the people of China the Filipino people's message of good will and co-operation. The cordial relations now existing between the two countries should be further fostered, and the commerical ties that bind them should be strengthened more and more. There is a considerable Chinese element in the Philippines of which China can justly feel proud, and we are also to acknowledge the help it has given us in the material development of our country."

Senator Pedro Guevara, Senator Antero Soriano, Senator Santiago A. Fonacier, Senator Ceferino de Leon, Senator Teodoro Sandiko, Representative Jose G. Generoso, Representative Guillermo F. Pablo, Representative Pedro Abad Santos, Representative Celestino Galares, Representative Vicente Ranes, Representative Juan Nolasco, Representative Emilio P. Virata, Representative Proceso Sebastian, Secretary of the Interior Theodoro M. Kalaw, Director of Lands Jorge B. Vargas, Collector of Internal Revenue Wenceslao Trinidad, Dean Jorge Bocobo of the College of Law, and Dean M. M. Kalaw of the College of Medicine of the University of the Philippines, former Mayor Justo Lukban of Manila, Mr. A. N. Luz, former Philippine Commercial Agent, and a number of secretaries and wives of members are traveling with the mission.

Mr. Manuel Villareal, staff correspondent for La Vanguardia, the largest and most influential newspaper published in Spanish in the islands, is also with the mission.

Chinese To Observe Humiliation Day

Today is China's National Humiliation Day. It was on this date in 1915 that Japan's notorious 21 Demands were accepted by Yuan Shih-k'ai at the point of the sword. Because of the failure of the abolition of these demands at the Washington Conference, it will be observed by the Chinese throughout the country as usual. Local street unions have issued a notice inviting all shopkeepers to hoist the national colors at half mast.

Sunday Cricket Or Not Discussed At Meeting Of Shanghai Cricket Club

New Committee Will Ponder Over Ethics Of Game On Sabbath

Whether or not cricket should be played on Sunday, or, to be exact whether or not it should be started on Saturday and carried over to Sunday excluding all other sporting members of the Shanghai Cricket Club from the use of the grounds on Saturday, was one of the principal issues brought up last evening at the annual general meeting of the club. One member in particular, and he appeared to have some support, was dead "agin" Sunday cricket. He indicated it was not according to cricket in the old country.

The member in question had two arguments: One that Sunday cricket was usually the left over innings from Saturday, which incidentally barred tennis and other sports for the half holiday, and the other that cricket on Sunday was not exactly right. He pointed out that new arrivals from England might not have been educated up to playing the game on the Sabbath, and he deplored the thought that Shanghai should teach him so to do. After some discussion, however, the matter was left over to the incoming committee for serious consideration.

The report of the committee showed a good condition of the club membership, accounts, and performances in the field during the year. The interport matches with Hongkong, Hankow, Kobe and Yokohama all of which resulted in wins for Shanghai were commented upon. The tennis section, the Committee hoped would concentrate during the coming summer and show to better advantage than it did in 1921.

Capt. E. I. M. Barrett in the club cricket average was shown to lead, the batsmen with the highest score, 165 for an average of 59.5, with W. C. G. Clifford second with a high score of 139 for an average of 36.6. J. M. Pearson was the only other cricketer to pass the century. He registered 109. Among bowlers Allison was first with an average of 10.9 for 672 runs and 62 wickets, and O'Hara second with an average of 11.0 for 396 runs and 36 wickets.

Some discussion was given to the question of establishing a lawn bowls section on the north east corner of the cricket field, and hard court tennis courts wherever space permitted, but the vote was almost unanimous against either innovation.

Mr. F. W. Potter was elected president for the ensuing year; Mr. W. A. H. Moule was elected vice president, Mr. C. D. Field it was indicated would assist as secretary, with a professional accountant in charge of the books. The general committee was selected as follows: Capt. E. I. M. Barrett, G. M. Billings, W. N. Hansell, A. W. Hayward, C. D. Feld, H. W. Allison, R. Grimshaw, N. B. Ramsay.

The result of the vote for the ballotting committee was not announced, the chairman advising that the members would be notified later of the ballot.

S'hai Cricket XI Selected For Hongkong Game

The cricket team which will represent Shanghai against the Services team from Hongkong tomorrow and Thursday as announced yesterday is as follows:

Allison, Barrett, Billings, Brook, Clifford, Cockburn, Hayward, Leach, Ollerdessen, Wainwright, Wilson.

The selections represent the best conditioned local cricketers. They are expected to repeat their victory of last year over the Southern eleven.

RECS CONSIDER HIGH COST OF RUNNING CLUB

The high cost of maintaining a first class sporting club was the chief topic of discussion at the annual general meeting of the Shanghai Recreation Club held last evening in the Club pavilion. Increased costs of operation, the committee claimed had far outgrown the increased revenue from the larger membership. It was urged and finally voted to increase the entrance fee and the yearly subscription to keep the club above the sinking point.

Local sportsmen who in the future join the Recs will be required to pay up $40 as entrance fee and $25 yearly subscription if they are playing members, or if they come in as non-playing members, they must pay $25 entrance fee and $15 yearly subscription. The proportion of increase in fees is approximately 30 percent, which according to the outgoing committee is barely sufficient to provide for the increasing expenses.

The annual report of the Recs showed a good increase in membership, a satisfactory financial condition, and a complimentary review of the club's activities in cricket, tennis, football and lawn bowls for 1921. One hundred and thirty six voting members were shown on the roll as compared with 123 for the previous season; 81 non voting and 15 bootball members were shown as compared with 76 and 17 for the year before.

Cricket averages for the year showed H. B. Ollerdessen ranking all of his clubmates with the highest score of 89 for an average of 35.60. A. J. Willis was second with a high score of 35 for an average of 19.10. P. Maldar was first of the club's bowlers with 25.2 overs, 4 maidens, 95 runs, for 8 wickets and an average of 12.37, while T. W. R. Wilson ranked second with 91.3 overs, 15 maidens, 277 runs for 20 wickets and an average of 13.85.

Officers for the new year were elected as follows:

President—E. E. Lever, re-elected.

Vice President—R. P. Phillips, re-elected.

General Committee—R. J. Bowerman, F. Jones, J. E. Lucas, T. E. Poignand, C. Thompson, H. Veitch, J. L. Wade, H. B. Ollerdessen.

Ballotting committee—H. J. Ambrose, R. J. S. Brandt, A. J. Brown, T. G. Main, W. T. Manley, T. Veitch, T. L. Wade, W. E. Wilson, G. Borras, W. F. Landers.

Vice-captain cricket team—Walter Wilson.

Club Representative for Tennis League—J. L. Wade.

Lumbago.

This is a rheumatism of the muscles of the back. It comes on suddenly and is quite painful. Every movement aggravates the disease. Go to bed, keep quiet and have Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. Y., writes: "I can honestly say that Chamberlain's Liniment cured me of lumbago a year ago last summer. When I began using it, I was flat on my back in bed and could not turn to the left or right. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."

Big Leaguers Will Oppose Shanghai Saturday In Game With Nanking College Men

Twirler Kingman Worked Two Seasons With N. Y. Americans

Shanghai baseball players will be up against at least one Big Leaguer on Saturday when they meet the nine from the Nanking Language school, according to press agent dope received from the northern port yesterday. Harry Kingman, the Nanking pitcher, captain of the team, has had a two season try-out with the New York American League Club. He got his start at Pomona College, California and developed at Springfield, Mass., Y.M.C.A. training college. They say he's good.

The lineup of the Nanking team which plays here Saturday has several other stars, even though of lesser importance. There is "Red" Fowler at third base, a sticker of note from the same Springfield school. Locke White will cover first. He got his training at Davison College, Va. Hen Wylie, the star of the infield, a hard hitter, and a real ball player hails from Richmond College, Va. Blackstone who played the game at Colorado College and Cornell, where our own Bills comes from, is to cover second base. Gray, a heavy hitter from Kuling, will do the backstopping.

In the outfield there will be Waldie Holroyd from Hiram College, Ohio, a good all round athlete; Hollingshead from Stanford, Schmidt from Washington U., Seattle. Art Owens and Sanders will fill in as utility men.

The local nine will start concentrated practice this afternoon. Since Hopkins' injury to his bad leg on Sunday it is almost certain that Woods will cover first base. The middle station is still open with Howland J. Smith, Holliday, Hubbard and Swinehart trying for the berth. Bills and Maloney will handle short and third. Griffith and Hirsh will do the catching, with Jack Smith and Bruce as reserves. Wynn, Church, Scott and Dennison will pitch. In the outfield Bruce, Campbell, Cameron, S. F. Smith and a few others will be used.

Shanghai went through a nice workout yesterday with the American School and on Sunday worked through a Reds and Blues game which gave a good tryout

Church Census Shows Big Increases In Membership

(China Press Service)

New York (by mail).—The church membership of the United States showed an increase of 781,727 in 1921, according to complete official figures in the Christian Herald. This census of the religious life of the United States was made by Rev. H. K. Carroll.

The gain is an excess over that of 667,007 reported in 1920. The Christian Herald says:

"Most of the denominations share in the increase. The Methodist group appears to have grown to the remarkable extent of nearly 300,000. Nearly a third of this, however, is credited to the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church. The Presbyterian group advances by 62,649. It should be noted that the Welsh Calvinistic Church disappears from the list of separate bodies this year, having been merged in 1921 with the Northern Church.

BAPTISTS GROW RAPIDLY

"In the Baptist group the three large Baptist bodies, which are growing rapidly, are represented by the returns for 1920 for the reason that their statistical year is the calendar year and no figures for 1921 are available. The Free Baptist body no longer appears as a separate organisation. It has been in the process of merging with the Northern Baptist Convention for several years and has now practically disappeared. If Baptist increases for 1921 were included the total of gains in 1921 would almost certainly reach 850,000.

"The Salvation Army appears with a remarkable increase, 59,247. The net gain of the Lutheran group is about 18,000. The gain of the Roman Catholic Church appears much smaller than usual. In 1920 it was 127,579, this year it is under 50,000, the smallest figure reported in many years. The Disciples of Christ registered an advance of nearly 24,000.

"The Latter Day Saints, Utah branch, gained 45,000 and the reorganised branch 2,496. The increase of the Protestant Episcopal Church is 5,768, which is rather under its usual gain.

"The United Brethren in Christ makes an advance of 13,245, and the Evangelical Association and United Evangelical Church of 4,617."

Thought Body Found In Whangpoo Was Escaped Prisoner's

Belief that the body of the Japanese prisoner who escaped from the Japanese Consular jail in company with the Korean assassin Au some days ago had been found was entertained by the local authorities when a corpse was discovered in the Whangpoo near Woosung Saturday.

The body was discovered by a Customs inspector and the Chinese authorities took charge of it and, believing it to be that of a Japanese, notified the Japanese Consular authorities. At the inquest, however, it was found that the body was that of a Chinese. An open verdict was returned.

No trace of the missing prisoners has as yet been struck, but the Japanese authorities yesterday expressed the opinion that they are still in Shanghai and they are keeping up the search here.

Cabinet Makers Out On Strike

Cabinet makers employed in a number of the larger foreign and Chinese shops went on strike Saturday afternoon and have not returned to work, according to police reports.

A number of the workers employed at Tai Chong's, Arts & Crafts, Hall & Holtz, and some from Weeks & Company as well as some from smaller shops are out.

Most of the strikers are reported to be Shanghai men, the Ningpo men still working. The strikers have demanded a raise in their wages from 76 cents a day to $1.01 a day.

The strike has brought to light interesting figures in regard to the furniture manufacturing business in Shanghai. The trade has increased tremendously within the past three years. The strike is reported to have started with the Tai Chong workers, from which establishment it spread. Some 500 men are said to be out at present.

DOYLE TELLS OF LIFE AFTER DEATH

himself, he declared, had gazed on the faces of his mother, son and brother, and had talked with them.

The materialisation, he said, was made possible through "ectoplasm"—a combination of matter and ether beaten together—which emanated from the bodies of mediums.

This substance, he continued, could be felt, analysed and photographed. He himself had seen and felt it, he said, and he had numerous photographs to prove its existence.

He said an etheric body, the exact duplicate of the living, could be temporarily disassociated without death. This could be done, he said, sometimes through the use of narcotics, though he added smilingly that he did not advise this method.

He then described an experience of his own, when, sitting in a dentist's chair under the influence of gas, he had seen his wife and children riding in a London cab several blocks away. He later learned they actually were riding in a cab at the time.

CITES PROOF

He then proceeded to recite what he said constituted proof of existence of spirits, piling up instance on instance, some of which he said he had witnessed himself, and all of which he said were thoroughly authenticated.

The first instance he related—because of its simplicity and freedom from any possibility of trickery—was of a seance held in the nursery of his country home.

He, his wife, his secretary and a medium, he said, sat in darkness for some time without spirits appearing. Then they began singing a hymn—"Onward, Christian Soldiers." Immediately, he said, a glorious baritone voice broke out over their heads. He stopped singing and listened—checking up on the voices of all the persons present—until the voice of the stranger had sung through the whole hymn.

"If it was not an angel's voice, then what was it?" he demanded.

Through the medium of a Welsh coal miner, he had met his own boy, he said, turning to the next instance.

With quavering voice, he told of the boy's calling him eagerly, tensely:

"Father, father!"

Then, he said, the voice had continued:

"Father—pardon!"

The pardon, he said, was asked because the boy had not been able to subscribe to his spiritualistic doctrine. Then, he felt the pressure of a hand on his head, and the brush of ghostly lips.

Describing a spiritualistic reunion with his brother, a brigadier-general in the British army who died after the Armistice, Sir Arthur said that, through another Welsh medium, his brother had given him the name of a Danish healer in Copenhagen whom he wished summoned to treat his sick wife. The healer's name, the lecturer said, was unknown both to him and the medium, but the Dane later was found to be residing in Copenhagen.

Through a Toledo medium, Sir Arthur said he had been brought in contact with a deceased spiritualist with whom he engaged in an argument over the place where they last had met on earth. Pointing to Lady Doyle, who sat on the platform beside him, he said she later had convinced him that the spirit had been right.

The eyes of the audience turned to the novelist's wife. She nodded in confirmation.

What Sir Arthur said he considered was the most remarkable demonstration of the power of spirits to communicate with humans had been authentically established in Melbourne, Australia. There, he said, parents whose two sons had disappeared after they had put out to sea in a sailboat with one sailor had traced their children through a medium.

One son had told the father that they all had been caught in a squall and drowned. Then he asked that his mother be taken out of the room. When she had left, he told his father that his brother had been eaten by a strange fish, which did not resemble any shark he ever had seen.

A few days later, Sir Arthur said, a strange species of shark had been captured in the harbor. Inside it was found some broken human bones, and the boy's watch, chain and part of his vest.

Answering the question of scepties as to how spiritualism had remained so long a secret, Sir Arthur declared that a member of the faculty of Harvard University had just established the fact that alchemists of the Middle Ages had known all about ectoplasm, but that it was not safe at that time to parade more knowledge than was posessed by one's neighbor.

Declaring no conflict existed between spiritualism and the Bible, Sir Arthur asserted that "the New Testament, from cover to cover, is pure spiritualism." He quoted several passages of scripture which he declared could be understood only in the light of spiritualism, and suggested that the spiritualistic theory of life after death was the message that Christ sought to impart 2,000 years ago.

Sir Arthur attacked the laws at present covering clairvoyants both in the United States and England, and declared that one medium whom he had known in London had brought solace to scores of those bereaved during the war, and through a message from her husband had turned one war widow from suicide.

"Yet that clairvoyant is liable to be seized by the police and taken before a court that knows absolutely nothing about psychic matters," exclaimed the lecturer. "There is not a clergyman in London who is doing as much good as that clairvoyant. Christ and his apostles would be in the same predicament if they were living under our Anglo-Saxon civilisation."

At the same time, Sir Arthur deplored fraudulent mediums and declared he would make the law in their case more severe. He asserted that true spiritualists abhorred fortune telling and the utilitarian purposes to which spiritualism sometimes was turned.

"As if God would send archangels into the world to tell you what New York Central stock would be next week!" he exclaimed.

She Wasn't An Ordinary Chorus Girl

A story of chorus-girl life that takes you behind the scenes and below the froth.

It turns the brilliant radiance of the spotlight on the foibles and fancies of that mysterious realm, chorus-girldom

And the white light of the glowing arc reveals one, in all of the frivolous galaxy of beauties, who will reach your heart with the sacrifice she made when she "gave up" her millionaire sweetheart to marry a man "poor as a church mouse".

She smashed a chorus-girl tradition when she did it—never to "miss the money"—but she found a happiness greater then wealth.

How? What's it all about? Try to come tonight and find out.

Why always blame the Woman?
Why blame her for using her natural weapons—beauty and charm—to wrest from the world the rewards of wealth and position for which men battle with all the strength at their command.

Did you ever think of Society like this—
Fashionable society is to man a relaxation, to woman a profession in which success means position, marriage, her heart's desire. To its glittering circle men bring wealth, women beauty, for the great exchange. Ah, the heartaches and the hidden tears that sear the soul behind the smiling face in fashion's cold exchange—"The Beauty Market."

Grover Clark To Head News Service

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, May 1.—On April 30, Mr. Grover Clark left the editorship of the Peking leader. He will be succeeded by Mr. K. P. Wong, formerly with the Shun Pao of Shanghai and the Peking Daily News.

Mr. Clark recently was appointed the Peking representative of the Foreign Press Service Inc., an organisation established two years ago in New York by a group including Messrs. Herbert Croly, Franklin H. Gibbings, Will Irwin, Paul Monroe, Ernest Poole, F. H. Sisson, Frank Vanderlip and others. Its purpose is to "prepare unbiassed explanations and interpretations of current events and to transmit representative opinion from the various viewpoints, but it will not engage itself in any particular propaganda." Mr. Clark plans to take up actively the gathering of material for this organisation to circulate in America and through its connections in other parts of the world. He also will continue his work at the National University.

Soviet Tax Rich To Pay For Schools

Moscow, March 17.—Russia's newly rich speculators, merchants and others able to buy sweetmeats, wine, and silks and patrons of high-class restaurants have begun to pay a large proportion of their money to the government in the shape of a luxury tax. One of the principal aims of the tax is to provide for the upkeep of schools.

"We must remain true to our principles, to take from the rich to maintain the poor," Commissar of Education Lunacharsky said.

Lunacharsky declared Russian teachers were too poorly paid. "If villages can maintain churches, they must be made to maintain schools," he said.

As a result of the new taxes, which were first effective March 1, prices of meals in restaurants and of various luxury articles increased greatly, some as much as 50 percent.

3 Negroes Burned At Stake In Texas

(Reuter's Service)

Kirvin, Texas, May 6.—The body of an orphan white girl was found here today with 23 knife-wounds in the head and chest. It is believed that she was murdered when riding from school by negroes employed on her grand-father's ranch.

A crowd took three negroes into custody and the Sheriff burned them at the stake. The lynchings were very orderly.

PROTESTS PACT

Peking, May 5.—The Waichiaopu has of late forwarded a Note dated May 1 to the representative, now in Peking, of the Soviet Government, protesting in regard to the Russo-Mongolian Treaty.

Spot bar silver was down 1s. 2d. and forward 3s. 8d. in London on Saturday. The New York price declined to 69 cents, and the London-New York cross rate is unchanged at 444⅜.

The only change in the official quotations here today was a drop in the Yen rate to 62¾.

Our market at the opening was inclined to be firm, but eased off somewhat during the day. In the early part of the morning, business in Sterling was done at 3s. 6⅛d. for May and 3s. 6d. for June-July. Gold Dollars at the same time were done at 78 for May and 77¾ for June-July. While, in the afternoon, some business in Sterling was done at 3s. 5⅞d. for May-June and in Gold Dollars at 77¾ for the same months, banks generally were offering to sell only at 3s. 5¾d. for May-June Sterling, 77⅝ for May Gold Dollars and 77½ for June-July.

The market closed steady.

China sold silver in London on Saturday, and the market there is reported as being steady. There was nothing doing in the New York market on Saturday.

A Survey Of The Political, Religious And Economic Situation In China—II

KIANGSI

NOTE: THE CHINA PRESS has asked a number of the delegates to the National Christian Conference now in session in Shanghai to prepare special articles on the religious, political and economic situations in their provinces. The delegates here represent every section of the country. This survey, we hope, will prove of special value both here and abroad. Later we plan to reprint these articles in pamphlet form. The second received is by

Rev. Mr. Brown
(Nanchang, Kiangsi)

IT is difficult to write an account of conditions in a territory as large as the Province of Kiangsi, for the reason that the territory is large and the people diverse. Moreover, conditions change from time to time so that it is almost impossible for any one person to have in mind a view of the province which will be accurate in all its details.

With this restriction in mind, we shall try to present an outline of conditions in Kiangsi Province which will in the main be accurate for the present time.

As regards the economic condition of Kiangsi it has been the good fortune, or otherwise, of the present writer to have served on the International Famine Relief Committee of this Province in the capacity of Secretary for Investigation.

In connection with this office I have written to Missionaries and Chinese—Protestant and Catholic, in all parts of the Province, and have attempted to cover every hsien where anything like famine conditions have been reported.

The impression which one gets in travelling through the Province is that we have here a rich country. Crops in general seem to be good. Rice can be bought everywhere. There is no lack of vegetables, meat, eggs, fish—all that goes to make a well rounded diet can be had by simply using the products of the land. The people do not seem to be suffering, at least along the well-traveled highways.

Speaking generally, the reports which have come in response to letters of inquiry have borne out the general impression referred to in the last paragraph. There are regions where a shortage of crops has occurred. There are regions where the people have used the bark of trees, and have dug up the roots to mix with their rice, but they have rice and have not been wholly destitute. There are regions where floods and droughts occur every few years—sometimes as often as five or six years out of every ten—ruining the crops and forcing the people to fall back on the rice they have stored up during the more prosperous years. I have not heard of a district where people died during 1921 for lack of food, and it seems to an inexperienced observer, like myself, that with the development of the province and the more perfect opening up of such commercial highways as now exist, this problem of partial famine can doubtless be successfully solved.

There are two more points which need attention in this connection. One is the unfortunate activities of profiteers. I was told only a few days ago that a large quantity of rice was seized in Kiukiang by the gentry and others interested, and that a serious attempt is being made to take away the profits from the parties concerned forcing them to turn this rice back into the Province where it belongs. This offense seems to be common in some parts of the Province, and it is to be hoped that all such efforts to prevent this profiteering will be entirely successful.

The second point is concerned with the tragic increase in the use of opium. While the law regarding opium is as severe as it ever was, it is a serious fact that those who are appointed to be the guardians of the law are the very ones who are making their private fortunes from this illicit traffic. A reliable observer told me recently that opium is growing in the extreme Southern part of the Province, but according to my observation, it is not being raised in the Central or Northern parts.

The political situation seems to be rather vague to one who is not deeply conversant with the detailed daily happenings. The Military Governor has been in office for what seems a surprising long time. Under his regime the Province has, generally speaking, been kept in peace. Bandits have occasionally come across the borders from adjoining territories, but this has caused little trouble beyond the border regions. The attitude of the people generally seems to indicate a lack of interest in the political question. They are appparently content with the present regime and will undoubtedly support the Governor so long as he keeps the Province from becoming the seat of active warfare.

Religiously speaking, the Province of Kiangsi makes a very interesting study. At the time of the Revolution of 1911 very large activities were noticed in the destroying of idols, abolishing heathen forms of worship and in a general breaking with the past, and its superstitions. In a number of places idols were burned and in at least one place the destroyed idols furnished firewood which cooked a very acceptable meal for the missionary.

Since the time of the Revolution, however, and particularly during the last four or five years there has been a recrudescence of idol worship. One reason for this may be found perhaps in the activities of the military party and in some of the large temples in the interior one may see votive offerings inscribed with the name of one or another military unit.

Another reason comes from the natural interest of the people in the local divinities—the interest centering around certain large temples, and the pilgrimages to these temples seem to be growing year by year.

In spite of this fact, it seems fair to say that never has the entire Province been so open to the Christian message as now. This is attested by the fact that in a number of large centers there have been held Evangelistic campaigns which have been projected and carried out on a scale intended to reach the entire community. Furthermore, it is doubtless true that itinerant evangelism by both missionaries and Chinese workers is being done on a scale greater than has heretofore been attempted.

Furthermore, evengelistic opportunities in the schools and hospitals have been taken advantage of as they have presented themselves, and we have been surprised and delighted to find the people open to the Gospel Message and, in many cases, apparently all eagerness to listen to the good news of salvation.

The writer knows of no case of genuine religious persecution within the past four or five years. During rather extended travel through the Province, he has met with uniform and unfailing courtesy on the part of officials, merchants, scholars, the military, and in fact all classes of people.

Furthermore, his attempts to influence the people with the personal message of evangelism have in no case been roughly rebuffed; but there has always been manifested interest and willingness to receive the Christian message. In other words, the Province is now wide open to Christianity and it seems the manifest duty of the churches of all denominations to press forward in the Day of Grace.

Whooping Cough.

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given, is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.

Bankers' Association Makes Recommendation Regarding Bond Issues

The Shanghai Chinese Bankers' Association issues the following statement regarding recommendations made concerning the issue and security of Government bonds:

The value of the Chinese national bonds had in the recent years been declining continuously. The Shanghai Chinese bankers, seeing the deplorable state of the national finance, called a bankers conference in October 1920 with the object of solving the problem of the depreciated Government securities. A resolution was passed in the conference recommending to the Government a scheme for the consolidation of the national debts. The scheme was duly proposed to, and accepted by, the Government. As a result, a committee for the consolidation of national loan service was formed and a new issue called "the Chinese Government short Term Loan For The Improvement of Money Market" was made to take the place of the bonds of the First Year 6 percent and of the 8th Year 7 percent national loans.

The committee was formed for the purpose of supervising the issue and controlling the sinking fund of the new bonds and thereby the public confidence was greatly stimulated. The prices of the various national bonds began to go up and it was for the Government to maintain the stimulated credit by refraining from further borrowings. The Government, on the contrary, issued bonds without any authority in excess of the schedule numbers.

GOVT. ACT UNKNOWN

Such unauthorised act of the Government was unknown to the public until March 23, 1922; when Sir Francis Aglen, the Inspector General of the Maritime Customs, brought the matter to light. There was a panic. The prices of the national bonds dropped low. With trade depression and political disturbance the panic was leading headlong towards national financial crisis. It would seem that the Government was ready to do anything to get money. To save the Government from going into bankruptcy and to prevent it from further borrowing and thus to minimise the burden of the people the Chinese bankers had to do something and that something was to control effectively the Government loans. A memorandum was accordingly drawn up by the Shanghai Chinese Bankers Association and submitted to the National Bankers Conference held at Hangchow last April. The three essential features of the memoradum are as follows:

ADVISE MINISTRY

1.—The Ministry of Finance should at once inform the bankers association of all particulars of the national loans redeemed and unredeemed.

2.—The Sinking Funds of the loans should be audited from time to time by the bankers.

3.—In case of new national loans the Government should at once publish all particulars in the Government paper and inform all bankers associations of the same.

The three points were approved by the Conference and embodied in a petition presented to the Government on April 20, 1922. The text of the petition ad verbatim reads as follows:

"We beg to state that since the 9th year of the Republic (1920) when the measures for the consolidation of the national loans were promulgated, the national credit has been greatly raised and the circulation of the bonds daily increased. Up to the present such loans floated from time to time and not yet redeemed still amount to more than $300,000,000, of which some are investments for the foundation funds of charitable, religious and other public institutions or for the maintenance of certain classes of individuals while others are in the possessions of foreigners or in the circulations in the market. On account of this, it is intimately and enormously connected with the national credit at home and abroad, and the economic conditions of certain individuals in particular and of the community at large. If such credit should be broken down, it would be inconceivable how to carry on the functions of the Government.

BANKERS TO ASSIST

"According to article 9 of the Consolidated Loan Service which provides measures for the protection of the Sinking Fund, it is stated that the bankers shall elect representatives to take part in the management thereof. We, the bankers are therfore under a duty which cannot be denied by us and under an obligation which cannot be shifted to others. Now owing to the unsettled political condidtions and to the recurrence of disturbing rumors the prices of the bonds have fallen low. The National Bankers Conference was this year held wherein the following proposals were made with a view to strengthening the credit of the bonds.

"1.—Where according to the regulations of the national loans payments are to be made out of the Salt Surplus, we beg to advise that the Government should make such payments on due dates and that we may in writing request the chief inspector and the associate chief inspector of the Salt Revenue to act on behalf of the Government on due dates and in accordance with the regulations sanctioned by the Government.

AS TO SURPLUSES

"2.—Where according to the regulations of the national loans payments are to be made out of the Customs Surplus, we beg to advise that such surplus, after deducting the payments of indemnities and foreign loans, should wholly form a part of the Sinking fund and the government should not in future use the cancelled Russian and German indemnities for other purpose and that we may in writing request the inspector general of the Maritime Customs, on the dates and in accordance with the regulations, to press for and collect moneys from other various sources to be used as parts of the Sinking Fund and to pay such moneys into the Customs surplus for the purpose of redeeming the national loans.

"3.—Where according to the regulations of the national loans payments are to be made out of the revenues of the Ministry of Communications, of the Bureau of the Wine and Tobacco, and of other sources we beg to advise that the Government should make such payments in accordance with the regulations, so as to duly carry out the regulations of the Government and maintain the credit of the national loans, regardless of the fact that the Sinking Fund is fully provided for by the Salt and the Customs surplus.

FURTHER PROPOSALS

"Apart from the measures for the provision of the Sinking Fund, we beg to make the following proposals concerning the issue of the national bonds:

"1.—As it has been discovered that there are certain bonds in excess of the schedule numbers, it should be investigated as to whether or not such bonds have been issued by the Government. If they were forged, the matter should be seriously dealt with. If they were issued by the Government (a) as securities for loans, or (b) now in circulation in the market, the Government should at once call back and destroy such bonds in exchange for other bonds of similar value or make due provisions for the Sinking Fund, hand over the same to the Committee for the Consolidation of National Loan Service to be paid into the Sinking Funds and treat such bonds as authorised ones.

"2.—Those bonds which have been issued by the Government from time to time should be classified and scheduled as to their descriptions, amounts, and distinctive numbers, and should be on one hand published in the newspapers and the other hand printed in pamphlet forms to be distributed to the bankers associations in various parts of the country so that they may be widely known, while others of which the issue has not yet been authorised should all be destroyed so that their issue may forever be prevented and public suspicion and anxiety may be removed.

"3.—The Government should make express orders prohibiting the issue of national bonds in future without due provision of sinking fund and also prohibiting the pledge of the unissued bonds for loans so that the national bonds may forever cease to have the differentiation of valid and invalid issues and the holders and the purchasers of the bonds may not have all kinds of unexpected anxieties.

AGLEN APPROVES

"We beg to recommend the above proposals to be carried into effect, which have been made by the National Bankers Conference of this year. This matter concerns the credit of the nation and the interests of the people, and we therefore anxiously wait for your approval."

For the information of the Inspector General of the Maritime Customs, a copy of the above proposals was duly sent to Sir Francis Aglen with a request of his support.

In reply he expressed in a telegram on April 24 last his hearty support and approval of the proposals.

"One leads where many follow."

Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.

Hall's Distemper (Registered Trade Mark) is a unique preparation and has the recommendation of leading sanitary authorities, architects, and decorators everywhere.

Avoid disappointment by refusing substitutes which do not possess its advantages.

One More Formal Meeting Of American Woman's Club

The wide range of interest and the poignant emotional appeal of Chinese poetry was vividly presented by Mrs. Florence Ayscough in her address given before the general meeting of the American Woman's Club last Tuesday afternoon. There will be only one more formal meeting of the club, to be held on Tuesday, May 16 at the Carlton, at which time the work of the past year will be summed up in reports from the various departments and committees. The Social Department is planning a garden party for the afternoon of May 27 of which further particulars will appear later.

On Friady afternoon at the School for the Chinese Blind on Edinburgh Road the Social Service Department and friends were entertained by Mrs. Fry at tea and a most interesting program was presented by the boys of the school. While all who saw the performance were enthusiastic those who have watched the development of the school were particularly interested in noting the remarkable progress which the pupils have made in the past year. The tiny children sang nursery songs in English, others read in English, by touch, using the Braille characters, the more advanced students sang choruses in parts, one boy played the organ very well and others performed on Chinese musical instruments.

CONCERT TO AID BLIND

In this connection the attention of the club is called to the concert for the benefit of this splendid institution which is doing so much to make useful and happy citizens out of lives which would otherwise be largely wasted. On Friday evening, May 19 and Saturday afternoon, May 20 an entertainment will be given in the Olympic Theater, part of the program being furnished by the pupils of the school and the balance by local artists. The school depends on the proceeds of this performance for assistence in meeting its running expenses and it is hoped that support will be generous. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Harrison King at St. Johns, from the school, or at Moutrie's.

The Mothers' Department of the Club at its meeting last Friday heard a most interesting and definite address from Mrs. L. J. Birney on "Practical Religious Training for Children." Mrs. Birney's wide experience in work with children enabled her to give many valuable suggestions and she also recommended a list of books on the subject which may be secured from Mrs. Van Buskirk, chairman of the department. The executive committee for the coming season is meeting soon to outline the program for next fall and Winter. The next department meeting will be held on May 17 at ten o'clock at the Carlton Cafe and Dr. W. G. Hiltner will give a health talk, with particular reference to the problems which confront a mother in the Summer, and methods for preventing hot-weather maladies.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT

The Literary Department will meet on Friday, May 12, at 3 o'clock at the Royal Asiatic Society's Hall and papers will be read by Mrs. J. J. Brennsman on "Shi Whangti, the Napoleon of China" and by Mrs. H. E. Davis on "The Early Poetry of China." The Art Section of the Program Committee meets on Wednesday, May 10 at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. Van Buskirk to discuss the papers covering the art side of the period to be taken up in the work of the department next season. This preliminary reading and discussion will give a vantage ground for interest and understanding for the general program of this department and the section will be delighted to have any ladies meet with them who wish to get a more thorough comprehension of the period than can be obtained from merely hearing the papers read at the meetings.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results." W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments." F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home." WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine." N. B. SIZER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

AGE is no indication of eye condition. Many aged people do not need to wear glasses, whereas many children need them at an early age.

Sometimes children, otherwise bright and intelligent, are backward in school on account of defective eyesight which is entirely unsuspected.

Let us test the eyes of your children. Be sure that you know whether or not their eyes are all right.
